Getting Help with Training

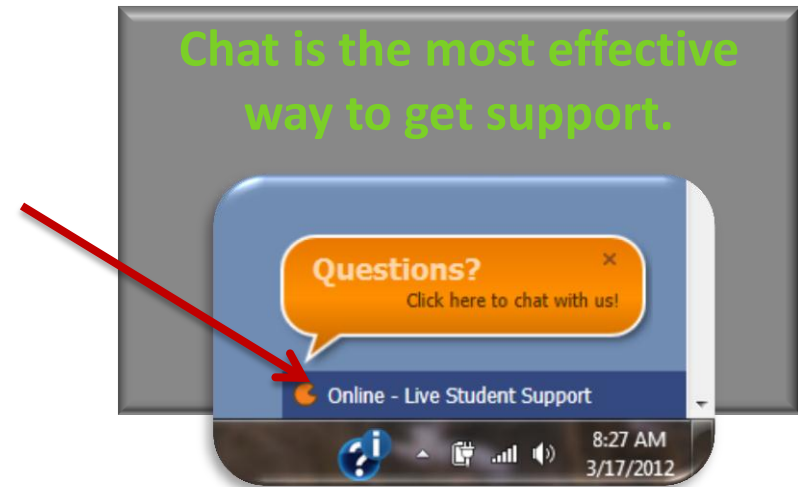

This is what makes us different!

We offer the most comprehensive student support available online. Student support is available 8 am to 9 pm, 7 days a week.

Live Student Support on Our Website

1. Click on the blue bar on the bottom right side of your screen
2. Type your FULL name and email address and question in the fields, click on submit
3. If it says “offline” or if we do not respond right away, type your question anyway. Then check your email for a response.

Getting Help with Training

Why is chat the best way to get help?

There are several reasons why chat is the most effective way to get help.

- Student support staff are able to assist several students at one time. Which means that you can get the fastest support.
- When you type in your name and email address it allows us to quickly view your student records.
- The chat transcript is recorded in your student records so that in the future we can easily see the record of support.
- When you are on chat, we can see the exact page that you are on in the training. This allows us to easily identify where you are in the course, and direct you to solutions.
- If we are away from the computer or offline and you leave a message, the person on-call for student support receives an email notification on their cell phone and will reply as quickly as possible.

Live Student Support hours are 8 am until 9 pm, 7 days a week.

However, keep in mind that if we are on the phone or step away for a break that we may appear offline. Type your message anyway, we will send you an email reply as soon as possible.

What is STARS?

STARS is the acronym for State Training And Registry System

STARS is a Washington State mandated training program for child care providers.

It is a career development system designed to improve child care through basic and ongoing training for child care providers.

The Department of Early Learning (DEL) administers the STARS Registry, a web-based database that tracks provider records. The STARS Registry is now referred to as MERIT.

What is MERIT?

MERIT is the acronym for Managed Education and Registry Information Tool

MERIT replaces the STARS database as the place for information on STARS approved training and education. The Department of Early Learning (DEL) is the State agency in charge of child care licensing and managing the STARS program.

MERIT is designed as a tool for all those who work with young children and their families in an early care and education or school-age program. This includes licensed child care professionals in family home and center-based care, Head Start professionals, Early Care and Education Assistance Program (ECEAP) professionals, preschool teachers, school-age professionals and administrators who support the direct care of children.

MERIT is a Web Based Database Managed by DEL

Spring Special

Who is DEL?

DEL is the acronym for Department of Early Learning DEL licenses and monitor Washington's 7,400-plus licensed child care settings in family homes and centers that serve about 174,000 children. DEL licensors support child care business owners and their staff in offering safe, healthy care, and take action if settings are found to be unsafe for Washington's children.

DEL also oversees the state professional development system (STARS) to help ensure that for those who care for and teach young children continue to increase their skills and education levels.

WAEYC continues to administer STARS Reimbursements for the Department of Early Learning (DEL). If you are required to take STARS training and need financial assistance, submit a STARS Reimbursement Application with a copy of your certificate of completion and a copy of your receipt to WAEYC.

Reimbursements are available on a first-come, first-served basis as long as funding is available.

Washington Association for the Education of Young Children (WAEYC) is a professional association for those working with children ages birth through eight years old in Washington.

WAEYC Administers the STARS scholarships and the conference support for the Department of Early Learning (DEL).

All of our online courses earn STARS credit and are eligible for the STARS Scholarship Program!
